<Contents>
①Original Product Solutions
 We provide solution service with using our original products to solve the problems from customers. Firstly, we conduct thorough hearings with customers to make clear their current issues. Based on that, we propose the most suitable operational methods and improvement measures to solve the problems.
②Product Development
 Sorimachi Giken offers several in-house products. To solve the customer problems, we not only develop customized features but also implement regular updates of standard functions and continuously evolve our products.
